AMP IS USELESS. GARBAGE.

WE DON'T WANT IT.

It does nothing to aid in productivity. I can't get links to pages without an act of God. It's ridiculous. I've removed Chrome, Google search, and the rest of Google's junk until we aren't forced to use it. It only causes problems. Who cares how much developers like it. Users don't. Don't believe me? Google "remove Google amp" and take a gander at all of the people complaining while you people continue up to force it on us.

No thanks. Since Google doesn't give us the option to use it, I made my own option. Firefox and Bing. At least Facebook got that part right. They don't force you to view web pages through their app. You have the choice to view externally. Once Google and the rest of you get on board, things will be much smoother.
